

Appendix 7.11 –Badger Findings

Confidential

The data search identified that badger are present within the study area. The nearest activity has been recorded at ST 3022 9852, located within woodland (Craig y Felin wood) approximately 400m south of the site, which is part bordered by the Afon Lwyd. However, this was a record given by Gwent Badger Group who informed that this sett may not have been visited for some time and as such the present status is unknown.

It has also been identified that there is a small badger outlier sett at approximately ST 303 987 (Torfaen County Borough Council). This is also situated at a similar location i.e. within Craig y Felin, highlighting the potential for this species in the study area.
